

Registration Open

Dear Colleagues, Friends and Supporters of APVC2021 Qingdao

This is a brief update regarding the preparation process of the 19th Asia Pacific Vibration Conference. The conference will be held in hybrid mode as scheduled between 12th – 15th October 2022 in Qingdao. Up to the submission deadline, we have received more than 450 full paper/abstract submissions. The reviewing process for all the submissions have been completed where 409 submitted papers/abstracts have been accepted to present at the conference. The acceptance notification has been sent out to all authors in the past three days. If you have not received the notification, please check the junk mail folder in your server in case that the notification is accidentally classified as a junk mail by your email server.

Following the completion of the reviewing process, we have formally move to the next phrase. Just a quick call that the registration for APVC2021 Qingdao is now opened. Please register online using your existing submission account as soon as possible to assist us in the planning of the final conference program. We will provide another update in the coming weeks when the final program is available. Please do not hesitate to contact the secretariat of APVC2021 (Email: secretariat@apvc2021.org; Mobile: (+86) 184 5327 65671) if you encounter any problem during the registration or any other issues.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my deepest gratitude to your strong supports to make this conference event possible under the impact of this long-lasting pandemic. The organizer(s) of the conference is working hard to provide a collegial and stimulating environment to welcome you all to the APVC2021 conference in the coming October. With your supports as well as many helping hands, I believe that we can have a great academic event where participants from the Asia Pacific region can forge new friendships and consolidate the existing collaborations besides the exchanging of new ideas and applications in a relaxing, friendly surrounding. I also hope that all of us will have a wonderful experience and enjoy what is on offer at the conference in Qingdao.

I look forwards to welcoming you in person at the APVC2021 conference in Qingdao.

Sincerely Yours

Tian Ran Lin
